WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

A report from the Pacific base of Coastguardsman Keith Weeden is that he is looking forward to a furlough in September or October.

Mrs. Robert Luck received a letter from Mrs. Tillie Tennis at Hayward telling that her son, Murray Tennis who has been in the hospitals since his return from the African campaign will have to have his small finger amputated. Mrs. Tennis' son in law, George Harschbarger is expected to return soon from one of the Pacific Islands.
Islands. Another son, Jack Easton, recently returned from active duty.

Lt. (j. g.) Jackson Englebright and Mrs. Englebright are visiting his mother, Mrs. Grace Englebright at Nevada City. The lieutenant has been in active service in the Pacific.

Everett Prusso, now living at Long Beach writes that his son, Marine Corporal Ray, is overseas and wants to receive the Sierra Sun, which is on its way. The family formerly lived at Tahoe where the children attended school.

Sgt. Alden Moore sent his mother Mrs. Glenn Sweeney, now of Woodland, a bracelet made from parts of a Jap zero. The pieces of the plane that made the unique jewelry were about the size of the bits left after the ship was shot down by the Americans.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Thorp made a recent trip to Tule Lake to see Mrs. Thorp's son, Victor Halberg who is with the Military Police there. He was formerly stationed on Donner Summit for several months. Mrs. Thorp's other son, Harold Thalberg is a petty officer in the navy and has seen much action in the Pacific.

Second Lt. Lavon Joseph is at Fotr Benning, Georgia, where he has been transferred to the infantry from the coast artillery at Camp Callen. Mrs. Joseph will remain in San Diego for a short time and will later join her husband at the new post or return to her parents home in Idaho. if the lieutenant does not remain in the United States.

Aviation Cadet Robert Wathen of Tahoe recently moved from Texas to Sikeston, Missouri.

Another letter from Phil Kearney states that he is once again in New Guinea. Found the climate just as moist and hot as when he left. Hoped all his stationery wouldn't be stuck together so he took the precaution to wrap it in waxed paper. The food, he said is better that it was before he left for Australia. They have bread, flour and more frequent fresh meat vegetables and fruits, but canned foods are still the staples. They also have dehydrated potatoes, milk, eggs and what-not, which, re concluded, are good foods, but they certainly taste like talcum powder.

We regret to report in another column of the Sierra Sun today, the death of Harry Bohme, who died after a long illness due to jungle fever, in an Australian hospital. A lot of you fellows knew Harry and he was well liked throughout the region.

Frank Titus, who was home recently expected to continue his naval aviation training in Texas, but instead has been sent to Pensacola, Florida, according to a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Titus.

SENATOR MAYO

MAYO SPEAKS AT ROTARY MEETING ON POST WAR PLAN

The next most important work to that of winning the war, is post-war planning, Senator Jesse M. Mayo, chairman of the senate committee on post-war construction, told the Truckee-Tahoe Rotary Club Monday night.

Senator Mayo told the club members that unless the people of California make plans to take care of the problem, more than 1,000,000 unemployed would be found in California at the end of the war. He urged that efforts be made to secure quick reconversion of our war plants to peace time plants and that a sound public works program be instituted to supplement private employment.

Senator Mayo reminded the club members that it was only three years ago that California was paying out $7,000,000 per month for unemployment under the old SRA program. If we act now and lay proper plans me can prevent a return to the cash dole and the WPA, Mayo said.

Mayo was here in behalf of his candidacy for representative in Congress and was a guest at the meeting Monday after calling on other local friends.

SACRAMENTO, April 27.— P. D. Hanson, San Francisco official of the United States Forest Service, warned a legislative interim committee on forestry problems California's forest will be stripped of lumber within 13 years at the current arte of cutting.

"Operators of 50 per cent of the mill capacity in the state must make different plans in order to survive during the next 10 years," Hanson said.

He added that 36 per cent of the mills must move their locations because planting of seedlings is not keeping up with lumber removed by the loggers.

We are still unable to determine just what the effect will be from the decision of the fish and game division in declaring Webber and Independence Lakes tributaries of the Truckee river and therefore open for trout fishing on May 1. The lakes are much higher than the river and we doubt seriously if the trout will have all spawned by May 1, and in catching them so early in the year, many future generations of fish may be lost. The question would probably have never been made an issue had it not been for a letter requesting a decision of the division from Nevada interests. In the past the lakes have been closed until May 30 and while this may or may not have been a law, it was a good ruling.

It may well be hoped that fishermen this season will not violate the rules and laws when fishing in the area and particularly on Boca reservoir. A limit has been established on the amount of fish to be taken in one day's time and for a very sound reason, to perpetuate the sport. We know that it is often possible to catch two, three or even four limits when the fish are biting good, but we also know that it is unsportsmanlike and if encouraged and continued will eventually result in depletion of our crop of trout. Let's all be good sports this season and stay within the law and see to it that others do likewise.

When the consolidated primary election is held May 16, it will be the solemn duty of every citizen to go to the polls and vote. We in the United States enjoy the rare privilege of selecting our representatives in government. We can keep it that way only by continuing to vote. Go to the polls yourself and see that your friends vote as well. Every vote counts.

NEGRO HELD HERE AFTER PULLING A GUN ON S.P. GUARD

Roger Jackson, 28, of Kinder, La., negro, who had been employed since his discharge from the army at the Hawthorne depot, was arrested here this week after he pulled a gun on Special Officer Robert Morgan of the Southern Pacific Company in the yards east of town, when the officer sought to question him.

Taken before Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith, Jackson was sentenced to 30 days in jail, pending possible filing of more serious charges by Reno police. Jackson was suspected of stealing the gun and holding up the Dixie Club at Reno where $10 was taken. No charges had been filed yesterday.

Constable N. F. Dolley said he was also investigating the possibility that Jackson is wanted in Lousiana.

Independence and Webber Lakes To Be Open May 1st

Season Opens Throughout This District Next Monday

Mixed opinions have been expressed locally over a recent ruling by the Attorney General's office, made public through C. S. Bauder, inspector of the Central Patrol District of the California Division of Fish and Game in declaring Webber and Independence Lakes tributaries to the Truckee River and therefore open to trout fishing on May 1.

In a letter to the Truckee Chamber of Commerce, Bauder wrote in part:

"In reply wish to state that we have been advised than an opinion submitted by the Attorney General's office rules that under the provisions of Section 618 of the Fish and Game Code all tributaries of the Truckee River will open May 1st. This includes Independence and Webber Lakes which are classed as part of the tributary water systems which flow into the Truckee River.

"A copy of this letter is being mailed to our representatives Captain A. H. Willard of Rocklin and Warden Bill LaMarr of Tahoe City."

This might well be taken to mean than all waters which eventually flow into the Truckee River are open to fishermen May 1, unless specifically designated as closed streams by the division of fish and game.

The trout season opens here next Monday and prospects are bright for the opening day, providing the gates at Tahoe are not thrown wide open to permit a full head of water after only 20 or 25 CSF of water has been allowed to filter through the gates for the past several weeks.

As usual, the opening will provide little sport for the fly fisherman as the waters are still too cold and all the rainbow have not completed their spawning period because of the cold weather this year.

Most nearby streams and lakes are accessible and few will be deprived of reaching their favorite spots because of road conditions. The only drawback will be the problem of getting sufficient gasoline.

Warden LaMarr said that a recent survey of the area indicated that there are more fish in the streams and lakes than usual and he predicts a good opening.

Boca reservoir will be open and no permits will be required for boats, but boats must be kept at least 300 feet from the dam, LaMarr said he was advised. This terminus of the Little Truckee annually produces full baskets for hundreds of fishermen.

All in all, it looks today like a fine opening season in this entire district and Tahoe as usual, will provide sport for the thousands who prefer excellent lake fishing to streams.

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Since Hiram W. Johnson tossed away his opportunity to become President of the United States some decades ago—by refusing the Republican nomination for vice president—it has been a political trueism that no man ever again would decline to become a vice presidential nominee, no matter how reluctant he might be to occupy the office.

The celebrated case of Senator Johnson, who spurned the chance to be nominated as Warren G. Harding's running mate, and saw the man who accepted second place on the ticket, Calvin Coolidge, become President two years later has been cited repeatedly during recent weeks in connection with the 1944 campaign.

Political prognosticators have insisted boht privately and publicly that Governor Earl Warren would accept the G.O.P. nomination for vice president this year, if it was tendered even though he preferred to remain as governor of California.

The news behind the news in the selection of Governor Warren to deliver the keynote address at the Republican National Convention, therefore, may be that Mr. Warren decided to put temptation behind him—and make certain that the vice presidential nomination never was offered him.

The political experts who incline to this theory say that Governor Warren's friends helped to engineer his selection as the Republican keynoter because the governor believed it would spike the boom to make him the vice presidential nominee. Usually the ocnvention keynoter isn't himself a candidate, but wields tremendous influence in steering the party's selections.

Regardless of all this ocnjecture, Governor Warren's selection by the G.O.P. high command as the convention keynoter means that California will have a dominant role in the Republican conclave this year. In a broader sense it is recognition of the West, hich has been irked at its lack of cabinet members in the present Democratic administration.

Another result of the new turn of events may be that Governor Bricker of Ohio or some other leader from the middle west, may emerge as the Republican nominee for vice president, if Governor Dewey becomes the presidential standard bearer.

At any rate Governor Warren probably won't have to face the decision that Hiram Johnson faced in 1920—when that grizzled warrior slammed the door on his golden opportunity.

Midget Golf Revived on Bougainville

Miniature golf—remember it?—stages a comeback on Bougainville island. A memento of home to soldiers of the 37th division fighting there, this midget golf course was built in a camp area by Sergt. Pearl E. Gebhart of Zanesville, Ohio. The sergeant was snapped by the camera going around the sporty course he designed with Capt. R. S. Elias of Columbus.

U. S. Senator Sheridan Downey, our spy adivses, has passed the word to his friends to turn handsprings in an effort to block Justus Craemer, Orange County publisher, from winning the G.O.P. senatorial nomination. Mr. Downey has decided he doesn't want to face Mr. Craemer in November. All of which indicates that the Democrats have decided who would make the strongest Republican candidate, even though the Republiacns may still be wavering.

State election statisticians, after re-surveying the situation, still predict that only one out of four registered voters will go to the polls at the May 16 primary. Many voters, scouts report, don't even know there is an election pending!

Ham and eggers, and other pension plan advocates, are doing their postwar planning, too. Finding it impossible to stir up a crusade while their followers are earning way boom wages, the pension promoters anticipating a period of unemployment after the end of the war, are preparing for an all-out drive when peaec comes.

STATE LAMB CROP BELOW SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR

SACRAMENTO, April 27.— (UP)— Unfavorable weather conditions in California, largest producer of early lambs, has left the early spring lamb crops on April 1 much below a year ago and below average for April 1, state department of agriculture statisticians reported this week.

Cold, dry weather in March with strong north winds depeting soil moisture sharply reduced the growth of new grass and shortened feed, and chances for much improvement even with favorable weather were limited, the survey said.

Officials said that only once in the last 13 years has tne condition of early lambs on April 1 been at this year's low.

Politically Speaking

By LLOYD LAPHAM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, April 27.— (UP)— An even 100 Republican convnetion votes was represented in Governor Earl Warren's office last Sunday when the governors of California and Ohio sat down for a press conference.

Both Warren and John W. Bricker of Ohio will be "favorite son" candidates for the presidential nomination when the Republican delegates are called together in June, and there were other striking imilarities between the two men.

Both have unopposed delegations pledged to them entered in their respective state primaries, the states have exactly the same number of delegates to the convention, both men are regarded as highly successful Republican governors and both are attorneys although Warren has been a public prosecutor and Bricker a private practitioner.

Even physical characteristics of the two men are similar—they are big, gray haired, handsome men.

The 100 convention votes the two men command amount to nearly 10 per cent of the total convention vote and could figure importantly in the nomination. However, Warren denies any significance in his meeting with Bricker.

He said they undoubtedly would talk about politics, but only in a general way and not as affectcing any particule candidate.

Bricker surprised capital newsmen with his willingness to talk on any subject. In a year when other potential presidential candidates are vying with each other in saying nothing, his readiness to answer any questions was refreshing.

Bricker, who said he was shooting for the presidential nomination alone, seemed typical of conservative midwest Republicanism. He said he favored international cooperation after the war, but not an organization which could compel obedience of its deciions or one armed with an international police force.

Governor Warren has become a little more definite about the date of the special legislative session which he will call in the next month or so, saying it could be expected in six weeks. That would put it around the week of May 22.

Although the governor also has not announced the agenda for the session, around a half a dozen subjects apparently will be discussed. They include:

1. Reorganization of the teachers retirement system. The governor vetoed a reorganization bill at the last session and studies of the system, which allegedly is not sound under present financing, have been under way.

2. Earmarking an additional $40,000,000 or so for postwar construction of state buildings, and appropriation of additional construction planning funds.

3. A new appropriation for the farm production council, which has spent most of a $1,500,000 original appropriation.

4. A possible new appropriation for salaries of school teachers. Money was voted a year ago to raise the minimum from $1320 to $1500 per year, but the governor cut the sum in half nd said he expected it to last only for a year. However, a legislative committee has charged that the money has been used for purposes other than teachers pay.

5. Some sort of veterans legislation. An assembly committee has proposed that state funds be allocated for hiring of service officers in the counties to assist veterans in finding the agencies which can best serve them.

The session will have to be fitted into a busy spring and early summer program for the governor. A session before the primary election May 16 is out of the question, but after that date the governor has planned a trip to Washington to appear at hearings on the new treaty with Mexico, attendance at a meeting of the governor's conference and, of ocurse, attendance at the Republican National convention in June at Chicago.

The subjects which actually will be considered will be called from more than50 proposed. Included in these is a proposal that the state sales tax cut of ½ per cent be restored in order to store up money for postwar projects.

Others range from a renewed urging that a 35 mile speed limit be enforced in the state to new regulations on the sale of oleomargarine.

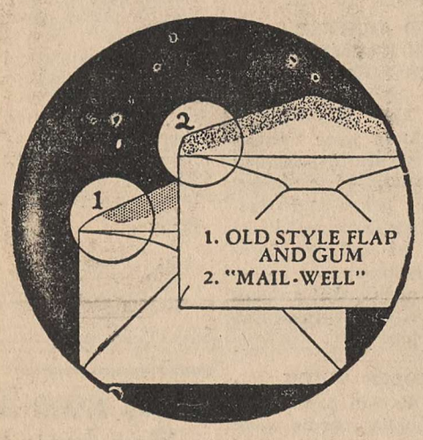
COMPARE

a Mail-Well Envelope with any Envelope and you will readily see the superiority of Mail-Well construction



● Notice in the above illustration the entirely different construction of the two envelope flaps. Figure 1 shows the old style flap. Figure 2 shows the "Mail-Well" flap which has been designed to protect the contents of the envelope. The outstanding advantages of this special high shoulder flap are:

It allows adequate room for heavy gumming at the corners, the envelope's weakest point, where added protection is most needed.*

It assures safe delivery of the contents even when stuffed to capacity.

It gives easy access to the letter opener although sealed nearly airtight.

You can best judge the merits when you have a Mail-Well and any other type envelope in your hands. Let us show you samples—a comparison will readily convince you of the added protection given your mail by Mail-Well envelopes. You will be under no obligation to order.

All envelopes ride on the flap edge when going through the sorting and cancelling machines at the Post Office.*

WOMEN INMATES BUSY

SACRAMENTO, April 27.— (UP)— Women inmates of the state institution at Tehachapi have completed a contract for 15,000 mosquito bed nets with the Navy and the institution is seeking a new navy contract, Alma Holzschug, superintendent reported this week.

"The flowers appear"

"FOR, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come" (The Song of Solomon 2:11, 12). These lyrical lines announce the season when all the earth is renewed and even the birds rejoice in the transformation. Do they not also symbolize that springtide of the heart when one rejoices in the dawn of fresh hope and faith, and the disappearance of oppression and evil? One need not await a change of season, however, to experience a revival in his thinking.

St. Paul says (Romans 12:2), "Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God." How is this resuscitation of human thinking to be brought about? By turning humbly to God and letting Him govern our thoughts, our desires, our whole lives. God's will for all is harmony and well-being. How important it is, then, to watch our thoughts to see that they are not conforming to mere worldly standards but are pleasing to God. . . .

A little boy who had won first place in a flower-growing contest, on account of his large and beautiful specimens, was asked how he had raised such blossoms; for it was known that he had only a small and unfertile plot on which to grow them. He answered simply, "I saw the blossoms when I planted the seeds." How well this illustrates what Jesus meant when he said (Matthew 18:3), "Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven"! A pure, childlike trust in God, good, brings harmony into our lives.

Thoughts are the seeds we are planting in life's garden, and they will surely bear fruit. Whether the harvest yields weeds or blossoms depends on the kind of seeds planted. To be receptive to good, and to let God's will be done one needs to know that man is God's reflection, spiritual not material. A flower has been likened to God's smile, but man is His expression and manifests God's nature in every Godlike way

Those who learn to live above the discords of material sense discover that there is no power in matter. They learn that God is divine Mind, everywhere present, governing all; and as they awaken to behold God's omnipotence and omnipresence they begin to see God's law of harmony prevail. Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 331, 332). "As mortals awake from their dream of material sensation, this adorable, all inclusive God, and all earth's hieroglyphics of Love, are understood; and infinite Mind is seen kindling the stars, rolling the worlds, reflecting all space and Life, —but not life in matter. Wisely governing, informing the universe, this Mind is Truth, — not laws of matter. Infinitely just, merciful, and wise, this Mind is Love, — but not fallible love."

"The kingdom of God is within you," said the Master (Luke 17:21). Each can ask himself, "Is my consciousness a kingdom where omnipotent good reigns?" It matters not what others are doing or thinking. Our part in establishing the kingdom of heaven on earth is to establish it first in our own hearts. This will help others to accept God's gracious plan. As we let His will be done in us, we shall see more and more of the blossoms and blessings of divine Love everywhere.— The Christian Science Monitor.

TAHOE LETTER

To the Service Men

From SWANEE

Tahoe City, Calif.
April 23, 1944

Dear Tahoeites:

It's Sunday again, and I'm back home after a most enjoyable week at the Sierra Ordnance Depot at Herlong with daughter, Phyllis and little grandson, Sammie Lee. It was quite a novelty living in such a different military atmosphere, and I can tell you right now I am not sorry that I am not remaining there. The trip out from Reno by stage takes around two hours, and the country it typical of Nevada, with mile after mile of rocky sandy, hilly country, with little but sagebrush and greasewood covering the windswept valleys. Midway between Herlong and Reno stand patches of low pinenut trees, similar to those from which the Indians gather thoes tasty nuts each fall in a two day festival ceremony in different parts of Nevada, along with scattered growths of juniper trees Occasionally a ragged pine acn be spotted, but all plant life appears stunted incomparison with onr Tahoe foliage.

The town of Herlong spreads out across the valley in all directions, with numerous new units for incoming families now under construction along with a new general market, day nursery, school building, theater and many other department buildings.

There are separate dormatories for single men and women, and housing units for families which accomodate eight, four and two families. All are nicely and comfortably furnished and most have hot water and steam heat Each has a nice wood and coal range and for a service charge of $3 monthly, heat, hot water, wood and coal, electricity and garbage service is furnished. Apartments are small, but compact, each with private bathroom

One of the pleasant points about the village is the free bus service which runs regularly for the benefit of the residents, most of the drivers being women. One of the most unpleasant conditions which the natives must endure are the cold winds that sweep across the open country and the dust which accompanies it. Sand fills the air on windy days and sifts through closed windows despite all precautions. Jobs are plentiful and wages are high and workers represent almost every state in the nation

Some of buses appear to be close to 40 feet long, the driver riding in a separate truck apart from the passenger ocmpartment. Stop and go signals are made by means of a cord. Nightly crowds are taken to the show free of charge and the admission is only 15 and 10 cents.

Every so often the men from the Reno air base are brought out for a dance, the USO at Herlong being active in the entertainment effort. I was given a visitor's pass and accompanied daughter Phyllis down to work one day into the forbidden territory, which I shall not discuss, but which I enjoyed very much.

The first person who was introduced to me in the general store was none other that Truckee's and Tahoe's Eddie Pitts, the butcher. Small world, indee. We both recognized the other. Shortly before I left he was reported taking time off to have his teeth extracted.

Almost ever yday I was there snow fell each morning with most of it disappearing before noon. The surrounding mountains did look beautiful and I witnessed several gorgeous sunsets before departing. My most lasting impression probably, of Herlong, was the strange appearance made at sundown of the row upon row of powder igloos, which stretch for miles across the valley. As the light catches them in a ecrtain way they look like a vast cemetery with the gravestones etched in shadowy elief. It was a most interesting week but I'm plenty glad that I live instead on the shores of beautiful Lake Tahoe.

While I awaited the bus in Reno I spent a few moments shopping and ran into Mrs. Roy Spencer, former resident of the Lake Forest district. She informed me that she expected to be a grandmother, her son's wife, who is living with relatives for the duration. Her son Roy, who attended school at Tahoe, is now across the big pond and in England, according to her latest word from him. He specialized in radio while training in California.

Hear from Daughter

The A. M. Andersons of the Village Store learned from daughter, Kathleen in India that she was with the Army Service Command at an airbase where the Red Cross has sent her and several companions to set up a new service club. She was well and enjoying the swift pace of life in the active service.

Tomorrow Mrs. Anderson has been invited to attend the special program being staged by the children of the grammar grades, under the supervision of their teacher, Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger, in observance of Public School Week. She will read excerpts from some of Kathleen's interesting letters from India and read articles of interest to the children from the newspapers Kay has sent home .

Had hoped for some word from Southern California and Doug Smith as to how he was enjoying the novelty of army life, but the last heard from him he was suffering from a sore throat and was a bit indisposed. His aunt and uncle, the N. R. Mayfields, are anticipitating a letter soon.

Fishing Gets Little Result

Well, the fishing season opened for the Nevada half of the lake last Saturday, but although many sallied forth to try their luck, few had much success, according to word from the south end The water was too rough for one thng. One party included Mr. and Mrs. Chick Arntzen of Tallac and Constable and Mrs. Bodie Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gross all of the south end and Stanley Pomin of the Pope Estate and E. H. Pomin of Tahoe Park. Martin got one, Arntzen one and Gross two, with Mrs. Arntzen enlivening the party by falling into the lake. The wind was blowing hard from the southwest causing their boat to be beached near Elk Point, and it was while trying to jump to shore that Mrs. Arntzen caught one foot in the boat, making her victim of an involutary ducking. She laughed so hard at her own plight that others of the party had to rush in and rescue her from the six-foot breakers which were drenching her. A fire was built on the beach where she was warmed and dried before a picnic luncheon followed. Today Mrs. Arntzen caught the only fish in her party, a three pounder. The largest fish to date which has come to my attention was caught by a trio ocmposed of Ralph Plimpton of the Wye Barbecue, Harvey Gross and Finn Barkley. They brought back five nice trout neighing seven pounds.

Local nimrods will strut their stuff next Monday when the California season opens on the lake and the Truckee River and tribuataries. Ward and Blackwood creeks will not open until June 30. Truckee and Tahoe fishemen this year do not look for early sucecss as the water in now, and has been low.

Highway 50 over Echo Summit to the south end of the lake was opened Sunday at 1:30 p.m., much to the delight of the residents and sportsmen who use this route to their favorite fishing spots.

Green Grass Grows

Plenty of snow still remains on the ground in our district although in open spots green grass is appearing. Both rain and hail fell today and tongiht again a hail-snow is deluging our roof. The skies are overcast and the barometer hovers between low and fair, giving little indication at this writing of future weather for the week.

I ring off for another week and hope more letters from you boys arrive before it is time for the next service letter. Could be many of you are just too busy dodging bullets to keep up your letter writing, for which we cordially forgive you. Just remember us when you do have an extra moment or two. The best wishes of the homefronters is sent along with a prayer and hope that all is well with you boys. Looks like the expected second front will surely be on it way and may God be with you when the going gets tough. Let's win the war in '44.

As ever
SWANEE.

Issues Challenge

Senator Jesse M. Mayo, candidate for Congress, today challenged Congressman Engle, a New Deal Democrat, to answer a $64 question. Said Senator Mayo, "In the last campaign Mr. Engle published an advertisement entitled 'anti-bureaucrat.' Now he should tell the people of this district of just ONE INSTANCE in which he has voted AGAINST the Washington bureaucrats in the House of Representatives since his election.

"As a matter of fact," continued Mayo, "Congressman Engle is actively campaigning for a FOURTH TERM for the Washington bureaucrats, and in the remaining two weeks of the campaign, he should make his position clear upon this important issue."

Senator Mayo is the only Republican in the contest for this district.

TEN-DAY SEASON ON ANTELOPES WILL BE IN SEPTEMBER

There will be a ten day open season on antelope from September 8 to 17, inclusive, in portions of Lassen, Modoc and Shasta counties, as set by the California State Fish and Game Commission at its meeting in Los Angeles on April 14.

In making the announcement, Commissioner W. B. Williams of Alturas said the season was fixed for September because it would give hunters an opportunity to also go after deer while in that section of the state. The one trip would afford both kinds of hunting, he said.

Virtually all regulations in effect during previous seasons will hold good during 1944.
